

18th HERITAGE MANAGEMENT SYMPOSIUM

Dare to Choose Making Choices in Archaeological Heritage Management

9-11 March, 2017 (Athens, Greece)

The archaeological discipline puts effort into achieving the greatest possible scientific added value and supporting the potential values of archaeological heritage for society. However, choices have to be made at different stages and levels of the archaeological heritage management process. Several interests are at play when making these choices: science, society, financial, legal and logistical possibilities, public support. Choices are based on the weighing up of different factors such as values, interests and practical opportunity.

A call to action for Europe's archaeology was set out in the Amersfoort Agenda. It identifies the subject of "decision-making" (theme 2, "Dare to Choose") as one of the three key themes in meeting the current challenges facing archaeological heritage management in Europe.

The key aspects in making choices can be resumed through its three agenda items:

- Be conscious, explicit and transparent about the choices being made and the consequences of selection in the archaeological heritage management process;
- Develop a sound infrastructure to support the making of informed choices: identify research frameworks and criteria, and enable access to current archaeological knowledge and data;
- Adopt a broader perspective when making choices: open up boundaries within the discipline and involve other stakeholders (and their interests) in the process.

Clear choices should indeed ultimately result in a more consistent and transparent decision-making, a stronger defense of funding for archaeological excavation, a more sustainable approach to archaeological heritage management and a better-informed and engaged public.

This Symposium will give EAC members and others a welcome opportunity to explore the variety of approaches in decision making mechanisms and actions and consider how they may become embedded in general archaeological policy and practice over the next few years.

DAY 1 (Thursday 9th March, 2017)

11:00 - 11.10 Launching of EAC Papers 12

11:10 – 11:20 Opening of the symposium, welcoming addresses

(11.20 – 17:30) Session 1. The decision making mechanisms

Not everything is being excavated, recorded, researched, archived with the same intensity. The aim of this session is to explore the various decision making processes within their context: on what grounds do we choose the archaeological sites to excavate, the preservation, the analysis, the archiving and the publication of the chosen datasets?; how can we strike the best balance between financial implications and public support?; what are the values of the related stakeholders and other disciplines and how do we take them into consideration?; how can we be transparent about the choices being made, what is the minimum infrastructure needed for making the necessary choices and what are the long-term consequences of these choices?

Session chairs and moderators: Bernard RANDOIN (France) & Barney SLOANE (UK)

- 11.20 11.50 Barney SLOANE: Frameworks for Choice Preliminary Findings of the EAC Making Choices Working Group
- 11.50 12.10 Angeliki G. SIMOSI: The Protection of Underwater Antiquities in Greece
- 12.10 12.30 David BIBBY & Duncan H. BROWN: Making Choices for Archaeological Archives in Europe

12.30 – 14.00 Lunch (provided by the General Directorate of Antiquities and Cultural Heritage)

- 14.00 14.20 Lyudmil VAGALINSKI (Bulgaria): Making Choices in Archaeological Heritage Management, The Case of Bulgaria
- 14.20 14.40 Thomas Roland (Denmark): Tools for Validation of Archaeological Investigations and in situ Conservation
- 14.40 15.00 Franco Nicolis (Italy): Making Choices in Archaeological Heritage Management in Trentino, Northern Italy
- 15.00 15.20 Agnes Stefánsdóttir & Kristín Huld Sigurðardóttir (Iceland): Austurbakki A Case Study from Iceland
- 15.20 15.30 Q&A

15.30 – 16.00 Tea/Coffee Break

- 16.00 16.20 Bernhard HEBERT (Austria): Are monuments struggling for life or are we making choices?
- 16.20 16.40 Gábor Virágos (Hungary), Dare to Loose
- 16.40 17.00 Ulla KADAKAS (Estonia): Defining Archaeological Heritage in Estonia
- 17.00 17.30 Q & A + Discussion

Close at 17.30 - Followed by Reception at the Megaron YPATIA. Hosted by Heritage & Museums

(9:00 – 12:30) Session 2. The choice of research questions for excavations

Is question-driven fieldwork vital or not? How do we identify research frameworks in order to make the necessary choices? What questions need to be answered and subsequently what methods / field strategies do they require? How do we develop criteria and standards for assessing the significance of the archaeological sites? Which political/economical/social realities do we take into account in the creation of our selection criteria?

Session chair and moderator: Katalin Wollák (Hungary)

9.00 - 9.20 9.20 - 9.40 9.40 - 10.00	Mariglen Meshini (Albania): The New Structure of Archaeological Processes in Albania John O'Keeffe (Northern Ireland): Why (or Why Not)? Do I really need to dig it? Bert Groenewoudt (Netherlands): Question-Driven Archaeological Fieldwork in the Netherlands: The New National Archaeological Research Agenda (NOaA 2.0)
10.00 – 10.20	Matija ČREŠNAR (Slovenia): "Research as a firm fundament for decision-making" sounds like a sound choice
10.20 – 10.30	Q&A
10.30 – 11.00	Tea/Coffee break
11.00 – 11.20	Peter Schut (Netherlands): Dare to Choose: History Writing or Posthole Pampering?
	Agnieszka ONISZCZUK (Poland): Is Question-Driven Fieldwork vital or not? The Archaeological Heritage Manager's Perspective
11.40 – 12.00	Jef PINCEEL & Ann DEGRAEVE (Belgium): To Treat or Not To Treat: Insights in the Strategic Decision Making in the Archaeological Conservation and Restauration Laboratory of the Brussels Capital Region
12.00 – 12.30	Q&A + Discussion

12.30 – 14.00 Lunch (on own expenses)

(14.00 – 16.40) Session 3. The choice concerning the involvement of society

This session will give an overview of the choices operated concerning public participation and publicity and the question of how we can make informed choices allowing us to achieve not only the greatest possible scientific value but also support the potential value of the archaeological heritage to society. The practice of "embedding archaeology in society" through public participation is still in its infancy, but basic questions already appear: What does the public/society want from archaeologists? Which choices do we make regarding public engagement and public awareness? How can/should the various stakeholders and their interests be involved in the archaeological heritage management process? How can we adopt a broader perspective and explore ways of involving others in making our choices?

Session chair and moderator: Adrian OLIVIER (UK)

- 14.00 14.20 Elena KOUNTOURI, Constantina BENISSI & Julia PAPAGEORGIOU: Management Plans: A Tool for Participative Decision Making
- 14.20 14.40 Mary Teehan, Rebecca Jones & Mike Heyworth (Ireland): Three for One: Analysis of Three Differing Approaches to Developing an Archaeology Strategy
- 14.40 15.00 João MARQUES & Filipa NETO (Portugal): Steps towards Public Engagement with Archaeological Heritage Some Portuguese Examples

15.00 – 15.30 Tea/Coffee break

- 15.30 15.50 Eva Skyllberg (Sweden): An Urgent but Difficult Task Dissemination of the Archaeological Results for the General Public
- 15.50 16.10 Sandra ZIRNE (Latvia): The Relevance of Professional Ethics of Archaeologists in Society
- 16.10 16.40 Q&A + Discussion

16.40 – 17.00 Summation of symposium

17.00 Close of EAC symposium

Scientific coordination of the 18th EAC Symposium: Ann Degraeve (Belgium), adegraeve@gob.brussels
