

Metopes and frieze blocks remaining in situ on the monument.

Metopes removed from the monument and stored in the Acropolis Museum. Replaced on the building by copies in cement.

Shown without colour marking are North metopes B4-B23 and B26, which are off the monument, and the missing frieze blocks.

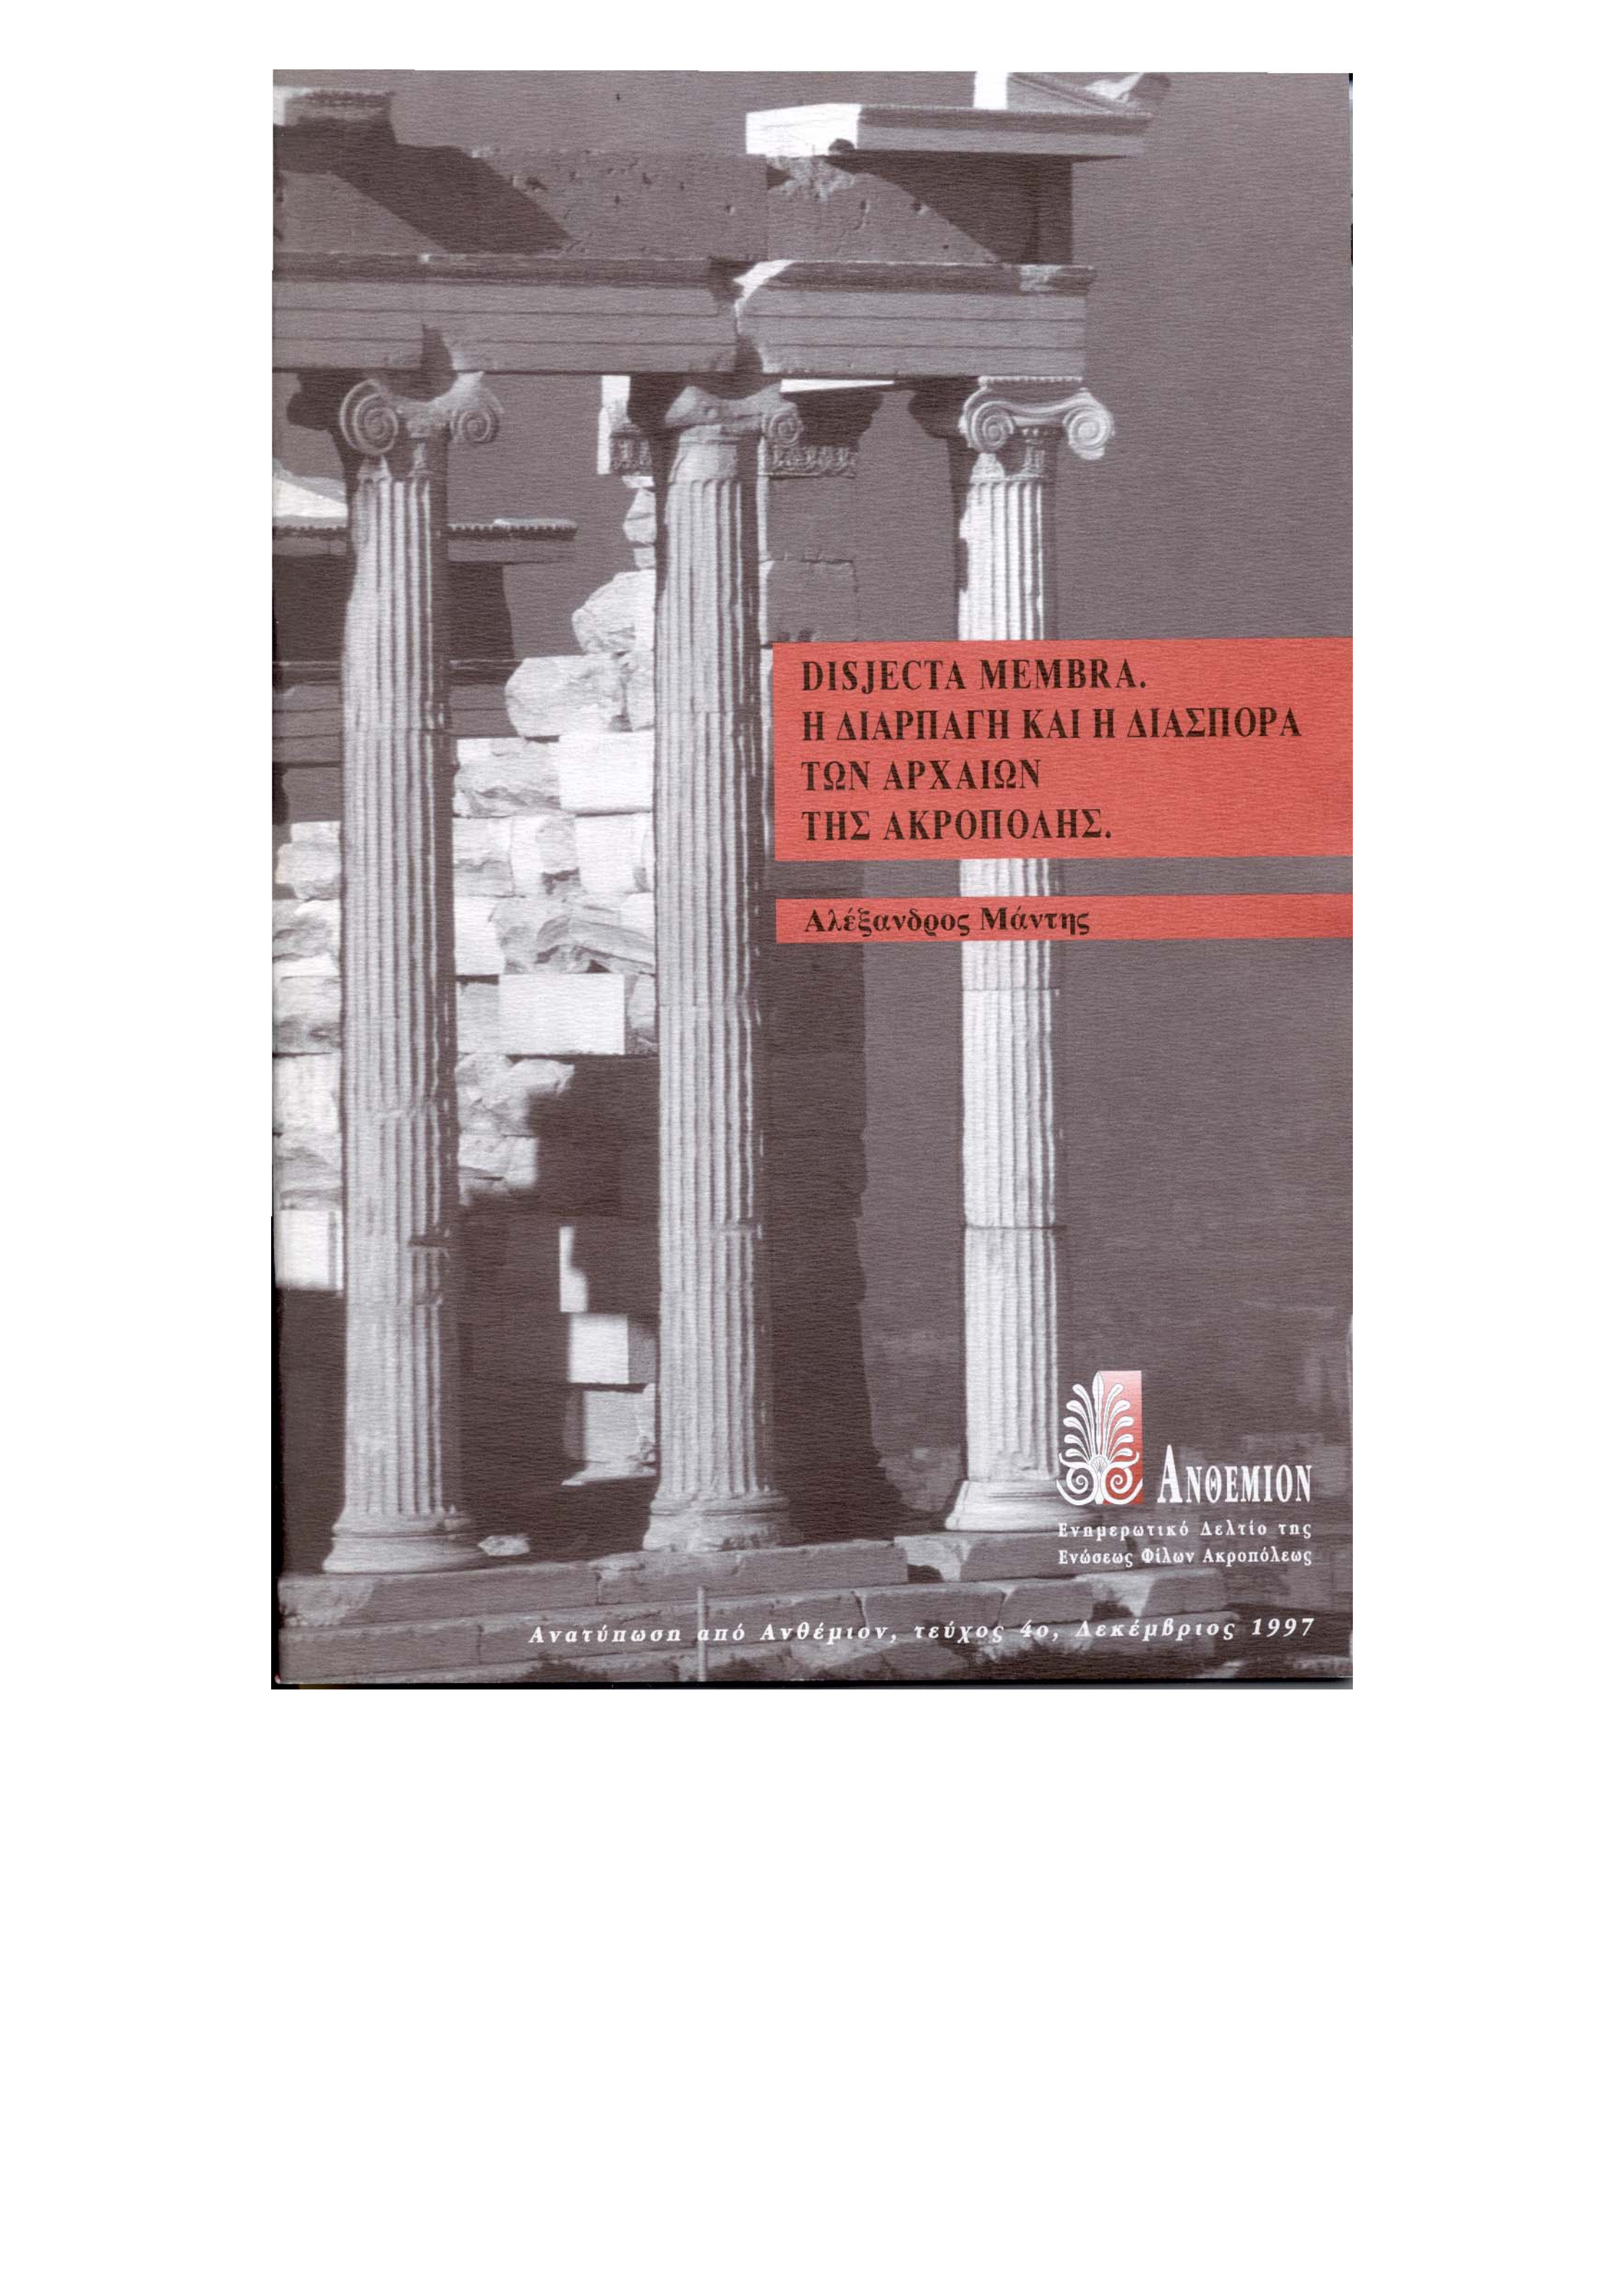

British Museum.

South metopes reconstructed from fragments, small fragments from the North side and frieze blocks in the Acropolis Museum.

Reliefs known only from Carrey's drawing.

Locations of windows made in the Parthenon frieze during Early Christian times.

Louvre.
